M Casa
by Zeta Chu

House: The project is inspired by villa design as the clients adore hotel design in open plan. The original layout is overthrown and space is opened up as family area for various purposes. The design in contemporary style was customized to accommodate the young family's vital lifestyle. The overall palette is neutral – predominantly black, white and charcoal, which allows splashes of color to stand out. The second storey with bold design, including the band room with graffiti mural, the son's bedroom in apple green, and the Lego-themed bathroom, features the uniqueness of the energetic flat.
